Carnival Banquet To Celebrate Top Sellers at BCC On April 3

Friday, April 13, is the night dedicated to the annual Carnival Banquet.

Lions who have qualified will gather at the Bookcliff Country Club to honor the top sellers and fondly remember all that drinking at the Carnival by drinking too much again.

The open bar (as long as the beer and wine lasts) starts at 6 p.m., and food will be available at 7 p.m. Then there will be a wild night of music and dancing.

Somewhere in the middle of all that we'll salute the team, the top Rookie, the top Retired Pioneer (if they're still awake), and finally, the top individual ticket seller. And we'll also honor those who have passed a milestone, like $100,000 in total sales.

If you have qualified (and you should know by now if you do), please be sure to RSVP to Lisa: gjlionsclub@gmail.com.

Ask The Pride

We get many letters here at The Pride. Members are troubled, or confused, and don't know where to turn.

This month, we're introducing an advice column:

Ask The Pride.

Members can seek advice anonymously, and some randomly selected member will offer their insight to help answer that letter.

Here's this month's letter... and a member's answer.

Dear The Pride:

I'm in trouble with my wife. I came home drunk from the annual Carnival, and my wife is furious. While I realize I have now been recognized as the "Greg Cranston Award" winner twice before, this time the fallout seems to be worse. What can I do?

Sincerely,
Lawyer Sleeping On The Couch

Dear Couch Sleeper:

I'm afraid you will need to resort to the time-honored tradition of buying your way back into her good graces.

Perhaps you could bring her downtown to a wonderful shoe store at 425 Main Street, and tell her to shop to her heart's content. Anything she wants. Or even everything she wants.

Few things can heal a badly damaged relationship like new shoes.

Sincerely,
The Pride

Trivia Challenge

This month's theme is the draft.

With the NFL draft on everyone's mind, this month's topic is another draft many years ago.

John Elway and Dan Marino were both drafted by the same team, though Marino was drafted first.

Your challenge is to name the team that drafted these talented athletes.

The prize is again a delightful treat from Enstrom's (7th & Colorado). Entries are by email only — no phone calls, texts, letters, or telegrams.

First correct entry wins.

From Our President...

As my year as President of the GJ Lions nears an end, I'd like to pause to thank some key people.

First of all, I'm grateful to our Past President Reford Theobald for stepping up to take over the newsletter again. He's done this many times over the years, and his newsletters are always informative, humorous, and a delight to read.

As a side note, Reford is particularly good at creating notes from me, even if I forgot to send him anything. It's almost like he can read my mind.

Also, thanks to Steve Stewart, who is heading up our efforts on the softball field. Our first game is April 5 at 7 p.m. at the Bookcliff Field in Canyon View Park. You're all invited to come watch the game. And if you'd like to play, contact Steve at foreignaid@hotmail.com.

And don't forget to come watch the bowling teams, Both teams are fun to watch, though the drunk team is much more entertaining than the sober team. I'd like to thank Past President Jim Giese, who is the big cheese for bowling.

Best wishes to all. Have a great month.

Jim Nickerson
President, GJ Lions
